LEXOW MEN ARRESTED.

Taken Into Custody in Jersey City on a Charge of Kidnapping.

THE INQUIRY INTERRUPTED.

Agents Had Brought Mrs. Hermann, an Important Witness, from Chicago.

SPIRITED AWAY BY POLICE?

Waylaid in the Pennsylvania Depot and Instructed that She Need Not Come to New Yerk.

The session of the Lexow Committee which was to have gone on at 10.30 this morning, was unexpectedly interrupted in a most startling manner.

It was a few minutes after 11, and the Committee had taken their places in Part III. of the Superior Court and were waiting for the counsel to proceed, when Mr. Goff came into the court-room look-Addressing himself at once to Chairman Lexow, he said that he would be compelled to ask for a temporary ad-journment, the first time that he had ever found it necessary to call a halt, morning that made it impossible to go

This announcement created a trementensation. Mr. Goff went on to say that one of the most important witmesses of the Committee, who had been spirited away from the city three weeks had been found in Chicago and had brought-back to Jersey City.

"That night, some time after midnight, she disappeared mysteriously. You will remember that I spoke of it at the time, for we had several other witnesses preent to corroborate her, but as she could he found we had to send them away and take up other matters.

Police Conspiracy Charged.

"That the police of this city had a hand in spiriting her away, there is no doubt. With an infinite amount of trouble we traced her first to New Jersey, then to Canada and from there to the city of Chicago.

"In that city, at the present time. I am informed by our agents, there are more than one hundred women who formerly kept disorderly houses i lew York, living in a colony by them selves, and waiting until this Committee adjourns before they return to New

SULZER SCORES GEN. SICKLES.

He Says the Veteran Should Withdraw in the Interests of Harmony.

DECLARES HE IS INELIGIBLE

Cannot Go to Congress and Draw Salary Also as a Federal Officer.

TAMMANY MEN LOOK WORRIES.

The Congressional Tangle Seems as Far from Settlement as It Ever Was.

Tammany men generally are disgus with the stand taken by Gen. Sickles, as made public last night, that he would not withdraw from the Cong race. When they first gave him the nomination they thought him a most available man. Now they are discover ing that he is ineligible.
William bulser, ex-Speaker of the sembly and a candidate for Congress, voiced the sentiments of the rest when seen by an "Evening World" reporter.

"If any man is to retire in the interest of harmony," he said, "It should be Gen. Sickles. I do not see why he should no ge' out anyhow. What does he was to draw two salaries for?

"As a retired Federal officer be getting $5,000 or so from the Govern-ment. Even if elected to Congress, and the House is Republican, he would be declared ineligible.

"He is a rich man, anyhow, and o to get out of the race now, particulari doing so."

Mr. Sulzer added that so far as only Tammany candidate whose with-drawal would probably be insisted upon. With Mr. Cleveland's presence in town and the job of straightening out the Congressional nominations tangle on hand, there was every prost times at Democratic State that the Senate shall consist of Rity Members, the Assembly of one hundred and fifty members. There cannot be two section I's of article 2. Major Hinkley was as reticent, as usual concerning the condition of affairs relative to the Congressional nomination business. "You know as much as I do about it." he said wearily. "The whole thing is a abeyance now, and there will have to be another assembly of the leaders before anything definite can be said."

The news of Mr. Cleveland's arrival in town was received at headquarters with a flutter of excitement. It was evident that everybody was expecting something. Inquiry showed that the something was an intimation from the President that he would like to see some of Mr. Hill's representatives, if not the Senator himself.

Word came from Senator Faulkner, at the Imperal, that Brooklyn matters would take up his time this forenoon, and that his efforts to bring order out of the Congressional muddle would be delayed until the afternoon.

"Jimmy" Walsh, the Tammany Congressional candidate in the Eighth District. It was asserted this morning, would not get out under any circumstances. It is said that he might have done so had ex-Leader Police Justice Divver asked him to do so, but the latter refuses to say a word.

Walsh is the lawyer who defended all the Divver heelers who were indicted for election frauds last year, and for the part he then played, as well as his known loyally to the Divver organization, he was promised the nomination.

It was immediately after taking it that Divver himself was "turned down," and he now refuses to raise a hand in order to straighten out the tange.

Kneebes, the American trotting horse owner, who is charged with fraud in racing horse under assumed names, will begin to-morrow.
